

Leave the no call list alone. If people need to contact me - I have a mail box. I don't believe telemarketing should be a paid position anyway. Do people actually like calling homes and getting 'crabby' people because they've just had their home INVADED.? I don't need it. Cell phones should be off limits as well... why do we need to sign up for a no call list? Let the people that want the calls sign up for them instead.
